Development Conference Plans Jell

Lower Bucks Units Urged To Participate

Overflow Throng Expected Tuesday At Doylestown

First county-wide conference on economic development is expected to attract an overflow crowd of business, industrial, governmental and civic leaders of the region.

The conference, sponsored by the Bucks County Development Committee, will be held at the Doylestown Country Club next Tuesday, April 23, and today Charles E. Hunter, chairman of the committee, especially urged borough and township officials of Lower Bucks county to make reservations for the affair immediately.

"It is essential that our various governmental units be properly represented at this important conference," Mr. Hunter said. "Just as it is necessary that business, industry and community interests be represented,

Springboard for Action

"We must begin immediately thinking and planning in terms of industrial development. This is necessary for the economic strength of the region. This conference should be the springboard for action."

Two panel discussions will mark the afternoon session of the meeting beginning at 3 o'clock. Participating in these will be outstanding economic, industrial and community planning experts.

Good Evening!

Poor Mr. Roberts.

The gopher ball did it and of course it was a game he should have lost. But there'll be few more exciting ball games during the rest of the season and any one of the nearly 37,000 down at the stadium last night will agree.

You know, if the Phillies had pulled that one out of the bag they'd be in the first division and already tied for first place.

Okay, now for a 20-game winning streak.

Well, what do you know! Ike's brother Edgar takes a crack at the President and what he says sounds as though it might by Old Guardist Bricker of Ohio speaking.

Don't worry about world peace, don't worry about education, don't worry about the atom age, don't worry about adequate highways—just start the government moving back to the 19th century era—that, in effect, is what Brother Edgar would have us do.

Ever think what would happen to this nation if we had smug, self-satisfied, unimaginative, unperceptive, and rather stupid people like that in command of affairs at Washington?

Senate union racket investigators turn the spotlight on Scranton and it's not a pretty picture you're seeing.

A long reign of union violence aided and abetted by Scranton city officials—not good. Not good for Scranton, not good for any community where such situations existed, continue to exist.

Let's hope the McClellan committee continues its work until this entire disgraceful episode is completed all over the nation.

"You low-grade idiot," snarled the wife at the peak of a long fuss. "I'm sick to death of you. I'm going to get a divorce."

"You're just say that," replied the husband, "to make me feel good."

A lot of people would admit their own faults—if they had any.

Watch your driving, please.

Blessed Easter

Tot With Heart Wins Over Death

By MARGE SCHIER
Courier & Times Feature Writer

In a neat, white house on Route 413 near Frosty Hollow Road, Levittown, an especially happy Easter will be celebrated next Sunday.

For Mr. and Mrs. John McElhare, Jr., it was almost too much to hope that their small Kathy would be with them at Easter. Kathy is the 29-month-old who played with matches last Jan. 27 and was burned over 50 per cent of her body. Last week, her parents' prayers were answered—Kathy was well enough to come home.

Helped Herself

At Lower Bucks County Hospital, staff members were happy about the tiny blond's recovery, but sorry to part with her. Kathy had been an amazing little patient, sensible far beyond her years. That, the staff people felt had a lot to do with her quick comeback.

Mrs. Charles Walton, who was one of Kathy's special nurses during the first week after her accident, recalls that even then she was most cooperative and pleasant about everything that had to be done for her.

And during her not-quite-ten-week stay, she continued to be uncomplaining and agreeable. The nurses found her spunk and good sense so endearing they fell in love with her.

"They were just wonderful to her," her mother said. "Spoiled her, in fact. I think, besides the good care that Kathy had, it was her personality that pulled her through. She has so much will power, she has to keep going, no matter what. Kathy was able to climb a four-foot fence to get out."

President Defends Summerfield Action

WASHINGTON UP — President Eisenhower today strongly defended Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's action curtailing mail service last weekend.

Bristol Postmaster Lawrence M. Mulligan this morning had received no new orders changing or countermanding the sweeping curtailment ordered by U. S. Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

Eisenhower said Summerfield had to do it because Congress had not provided the post office with enough money.

Eisenhower late yesterday signed a bill giving the Post Office an additional 41 million dollars. Summerfield announced that most services would be restored as rapidly as possible.

Post office windows were kept on their reduced daily schedule except that regional postal officials were given leeway to make some upward adjustments in hours if local need could be shown.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield ordered restoration of Saturday service and revocation of pending orders to halt third class mail and postal money or ger sales last night, moments after President Eisenhower signed an emergency $41-million postal appropriation.

BRUNETTE BARES UNION BOMB PLOT

Ike Promises Jordan Help If Attacked

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower said today the United States could go to Jordan's assistance if it becomes a victim of aggression.

The President also told his news conference the United States may have to go before the United Nations Security Council to report on the stalled Suez Canal negotiations. But he added that this government has not given up hope that an agreement with Egypt can be reached.

Eisenhower said the United States has two ways of helping Jordan if it is attacked.

First, he said, a Big Three agreement of May, 1950, provides for action in event any Middle East nation is the victim of aggression and this could apply in an Israeli-Arab dispute.

Second, the Middle East doctrine resolution approved by Con-

Criticism By Edgar Tossed Off With Joke

Been Doing It Since I Was Five, President Says

WASHINGTON UP — President Eisenhower today turned aside criticism of his policies by his brother Edgar with this smiling comment:

"Edgar has been criticizing me since I was five years old."

That was all the President had to say on the subject of his brother.

The President, at his weekly news conference, seemed completely unperturbed by brother Edgar's criticism of the Chief Executive's record peace-time budget.

Edgar, a Tacoma, Wash., lawyer, voiced the criticism last night in interviews with newsmen.

The first question fired at President Eisenhower at today's news conference was how he felt about the public blast from his older brother.

Expected Question

The President apparently was expecting the question. A slow smile of apparent resignation played over his face. Standing with both hands in his pockets he turned toward the questioner and made the remark about Edgar having criticized him since he was a child.

The President's remark brought a roar of laughter from reporters. Eisenhower responded with a broad grin and a little chuckle of his own. No further questions were asked and the President made no further comment on the incident.

Hussein Attacks Jews

AMMAN, Jordan — UP — King Hussein attacked "world Jewry and Zionism" today for their efforts to build up rael. He pledged to "adopt the way of the liberated Arab countries" as his country's policy.

He said "world Jewry and Zionism are working hard to build up Israel and are doing everything to strengthen the cancer in the heart of the Arab world."

He said, permits the United States to go to the aid of any nation attacked by Communist aggression.

The United States, he said, would be guided by either of these two pronouncements. The President, however, did not voice any concern that aggression is imminent.

On Suez, the President said the United States has insisted in its negotiations with Egypt that the canal be operated in line with the six principles approved by the U.N. Security Council last October. These included provision for

Hospital Releases Polio Shot Forms

In advance of a mass-inoculation program of $1 Salk vaccinations against polio, the Lower Bucks County Hospital this week began distributing forms to fill out for the shots.

The medical staff, in cooperation with the Bucks County Health Department and County Medical Society and county commissioners, will administer $1 shots next Wednesday to Friday, then on May 22 to 24, and in November. All persons up to and including 40 years are eligible.

Persons who will receive the Salk shots are asked to fill out the forms in advance, to expedite the vaccinations clinics. Required for Health Department records, they ask the name, address, age, color, signature of a minor's parent or guardian, and record of previous Salk shots.

The forms may be obtained at the hospital's out-patient department, the County Health Department office, 50 Quarry Road.

Fire Insurance Drop Asked

The Middle Department Association of Fire Underwriters has petitioned the state to reduce fire insurance rates in Bucks and three other counties, a spokesman confirmed today.

He said the Association will not give any details "until the filing is in effect."

The requests to cut the rates in Bucks, Montgomery and Chester Counties were filed with the State Insurance Department.

Charles VanDoren Weds Secretary

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands (UP)—Charles L. Van Doren, who skyrocketed to fame by winning $129,000 on a television quiz program, married his attractive brunette secretary today in a surprise police court ceremony.

The 31-year-old Columbia University English instructor and Geraldine Ann Bernstein, also of New York, slipped away to this Caribbean resort apparently hoping to avoid the publicity that would have surrounded a wedding in the United States. The news came as a surprise to Van Doren's closest colleagues.

Divorcee Says Details Were Put On Tape

She Laughingly Tells Probe Of Scranton Sabotage

WASHINGTON UP — A tiny brunette divorcee, her laughter tinkling as she told how her Teamster Union friends hurled stink bombs, said today she tape-recorded details of a dynamite plot against a non-union construction job in Scranton, Pa.

The witness, Mrs. Helen Canfield, 26, told the Senate Labor Rackets Committee that the tapes captured conversations of two men involved in the blast as they told how union officials ordered the job sabotaged.

The committee yesterday had heard testimony about strong-arm violence against non-union workmen and employees in the Scranton area, rigged union elections, and sabotage up to and including dynamiting.

Challenge AFL-CIO

In advance of today's testimony, the committee challenged the AFL-CIO to make good on its pledge to clean out union officials convicted of wrong doing.

Mrs. Canfield, a delicately-built beauty with a high voice, said she cautiously made the tape recordings after her friend Paul Bradshaw, one-time minor official of the Teamster Union in Scranton, was selected to "take the rap" for the dynamiting.

Bradshaw, a stocky professional boxer, has testified that the president of the Scranton Building Trades Council, Joseph Bartell, ordered the house damaged but had warned against use of dynamite.

Mrs. Canfield recalled how Robert Hubbsman, identified yesterday as a teamster muscle man, told her of flinging a stink bomb through a window of the strike-bound Sonny Boy Pizza Bakery.

"I thought it was very amusing," she said. "I've smelled rotten eggs, and that's just what it smelled like."

She laughed merrily as she quoted Hubbsman as saying, "wait 'til they try soap and water. That'll only make it worse. Wait 'til they turn on the oven!"

She said she decided to make the tape recordings after William Munley, accused by Bradshaw as the man who did the dynamiting,

Psychiatrist Backs GI Hero-Deserter

POITIERS, France (UP) — A psychiatrist said today a thrice-wounded Brooklyn soldier who became a French war hero during an 11-year mental blackout was actually gun-shy and generally unfit for combat before he joined the French Foreign Legion.

The soldier, Pvt. Vita Sala, is being tried by the U.S. Army for desertion in wartime. The maximum penalty is death. Sala claims he lost his memory, strayed away from his army unit, and wandered across Europe before joining up with the French.

A military psychiatrist testified at the second day of Sala's court-martial today that the soldier had symptoms of amnesia the year he

Batt said he wrote to U.S. Sens. Joseph S. Clark Jr. and Edward Martin and the 30-member Pennsylvania House delegation asking them to back the proposed Industrial Safety Act. Batt said the federal legislation would not "curtail or infringe on state's rights, but would rather assist financially and technically our present industrial safety measures."

Protest Set On Picnic Area Plans

Residents of Bloomsdale Gardens and Fleetwing Estates will air their protests on the proposed creation of a picnic-swimming area behind their homes at a special meeting tonight of the Bristol Township Board of Commissioners.

The residents have been circulating petitions against the project, planned by Rudolph Kraus, contractor and township commissioner. The project would be a commercial venture.

Registered Complaint

The group registered a complaint at the regular commissioners' meeting last week but were asked to come back tonight.

The commissioners will also discuss possible action to stop Bristol Borough from leasing land for a drive-in theater. The borough approved leasing the land at Routes 413 and 13 at a meeting Monday.

The township has objected on the grounds that the movie would constitute a nuisance to township residents and possibly endanger water supplies to both the borough and township.

The commissioners are also expected to act on the proposal for joint action to create a park out of the Silver Lake area.

Seeing Levittown

By LEE GARB

Latest congratulations to new U.S. citizens in Levittown . . . Mrs. Mary Moran, a native of Donegal, Ireland who lives with her husband, Jim and their family at 27 Crescent Lane, Crabtree section; and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lowrie of 137 Upper Orchard Drive, natives of St. Monance Scotland. The Lowries are now citizens, but their children, Jim and Elma, are still British subjects . . . but their mother assures us that this will be taken care of very shortly. Welcome, everybody!

And another new citizen has been added, too . . . we don't usually use birth congratulations in this column, and for reasons that must be apparent to everyone . . . but since James Newell, Jr., is Commander of the Bucks County V.F.W. . . . and since everyone seems to know him . . . we want to report on the birth of Jimmy, III . . . the youngster, incidentally, has four sisters.

Peg Frederick wants to know if the license plates are bigger this year. (It seems so . . .) "If this keeps up, we'll have the first 'wrap-around' plates in the country . . . our Volkswagen looks pretty silly with that huge thing!" she adds.

Thanks again for your calls and letters . . . all you nice readers! And, incidentally, this includes gripes, too. (I've only had two thus far and they were both misunderstandings!) This might be a good time to remind all you publicity chairmen, public relations counsels and press-agents that if it's in Levittown, I'm your gal! I know I'm not in touch with all of our organizations yet, so just call me at WI 5-1000 with your news!

HOLD ON A MINUTE . . . the above applies to newspaper coverage . . . not to "Seeing Levittown!" (wow!)

DEPT. OF ESTHETIC PLEASURES: The Levittown Artists' Association's annual Spring Exhibit at the Levittown Branch of the Philadelphia National Bank is worth seeing . . . let's all hop down and see what Levittown's artists are doing this year . . . it will run through Thursday, and Bob Rockhill, manager of the bank has handed out over a hundred dollars worth of prizes.

Two Commissioners Rap GOP Committee

Two Democratic county commissioners yesterday took a poke at the Republican county executive committee for listing among "qualifications" of Joseph O. Canby, Middletown, the fact that he had voted against the site of a new $6,000,000 county courthouse.

Canby's "qualification" was listed by the Republicans yesterday in announcing that he had been appointed county primary campaign chairman.

Rap Statement

Commissioner John T. Welsh, joined by Adolph Andrews, said the GOP committee statement was "rattlebrained and in poor taste."

Canby, a member of the county planning commission, voted with Norman A. Cook, Levittown, against the site.

"I'm not clear on where that makes him qualified as chairman of the primary campaign committee," Commissioner John T. Welsh said. "I never heard such a simple statement in my life."

The Republican release said Canby was one of three planners who voted unsuccessfully against the commissioners in selection of the site, but Welsh pointed out yesterday that only two planners voted against it.

Two Deer Die In Accidents

Two deer were struck by automobiles in separate accidents yesterday in Lower Makefield and Falls Townships.

The deer came out second best. Chief Robert Waterson of Lower Makefield said a deer was hit on Yardley Road by a car driven by William Hutchinson, 28 Delaware Ave., Morrisville, last night.

Falls Township Sgt. Joseph Kish said Mrs. Roberta Lovett, 123 Willow Drive, Willowood, went through the stop sign and struck the car of William McMahon at the intersection of Olds and Hood Boulevards in Fairless Hills.

The windshield and left front of the Levittown woman's car was damaged while the car of the Newark man was damaged in the grill and hood.

The deer was killed.

Science Whiz $192,000 Is New Record

NEW YORK (UP)—Robert Strom, 10-year-old science whiz, set another all-time TV quiz show record last night when he ran his winnings to $192,000.

The fifth grade student breezed through a three-part series of questions on various aspects of science on the CBS-TV show "The $64,000 Question." He gets a chance next week to pursue his chase of more than a quarter of a million dollars.

"It's up to the boss whether I can go on," said Rob with some detachment after the show. "Who's the boss? The boss is Mom."

The boss, Mrs. Beatrice Strom of the Bronx, N.Y., shrugged. "Rob is bearing up fine. Me . . . well, the show isn't so bad. It's what goes on in between shows. Reporters at the door, reporters at the phone."

Library Eyes April 25 To Start Rolling

Residents of Bucks today had evidence of another "first" for the fast-growing county. Formal acceptance of delivery of the $7,000 Bookmobile which inaugurates library service on wheels was made at the courthouse.

The Bookmobile, a Pioneer Gerstelslager model mounted on a Ford chassis, is painted green and white with the outline map of Bucks silhouetted on a diagonal strip of green on the side of the body. The mobile can carry 1600 books and is equipped with heaters and interior lights for year round use.

Three Organizations

The idea of bringing books and people together by means of Bookmobile service was promoted by three county organizations representing more than 50,000 residents. The joint library campaign committee was formed to represent these three groups, Federation of Woman's Clubs, Parent-Teacher Council, and the AFL-CIO Council. The committee gathered facts and information and enlisted the support of service groups throughout the county.

On Sept. 25, 1956, the commissioners held an open public meeting at the courthouse to give the library committee an opportunity to present the plan for Bookmobile service and an estimate of cost of operation. Public response to this meeting showed almost unanimous approval of the project, and with this assurance, the commissioners voted to establish a County Library Bookmobile Service.

Board of Directors

The next step was the appointment by the commissioners of a board of directors to initiate and guide the operation. A budget allotment of $26,000 will be supplemented by State funds of $4,000 for the year 1957.

Headquarters space for processing books and for office work was rented in the Rosenberg building at West and Ashland Sts., Doylestown, and in February the board elected Mrs. J. Paul Sias as librarian and in March they elected Mrs. Luther Boyer as assistant librarian. At its April meeting the board elected Roswell Eddy driver of the mobile and assistant to Mrs. Sias at the stations on the routes.

Interest in the library-on-wheels is evident by the requests from parent-teacher groups and civic organizations for service in their areas. Several stations with volunteer librarians to take charge are ready for approval by the directors. Many of the stops will be at schools to bring children attractive books to stimulate an interest in reading. Plans are to have the Bookmobile rolling on its first route April 25.

Members of the Board of Directors are President, Mrs. Lee E. Smith, Star Route, Richlandtown; Secretary, Mrs. Albert DeAngelis, Feasterville; Treasurer, Mr. James J. A. Gallagher, Levittown; Mrs. Druscilla Bonney, Perkasie; Mrs. Paul Neimeyer, New Hope; Dr. Morton Botel, Levittown.

9th Ward Club Backs Twp. Slate

The Ninth Ward Democratic Club of Bristol Township at a recent meeting voted its support of the Bristol Township Democratic Club slate in the May 21 primary election. The action was unanimous.

William D. Muller, 10 Horse-shoe Lane, Holly Hill, Levittown, temporary chairman of the Ninth Ward group, conducted the meeting with 26 active ward workers and six committee people attending.

The slate includes Robert S. Cameron, for township treasurer and tax collector; John M. Petro, for justice of the peace; Mr. Muller, for assistant tax assessor; Joseph Kehoe, for auditor; and Phil Stout and Niels Haugaard, for school directors.

Pennsylvania Avenue Widening Project Starts

Workers from the department of highways of the State of Pennsylvania moved in to Morrisville today to begin a road widening project along Pennsylvania Ave. The State will widen 500 feet of Pennsylvania Ave. by cutting five feet off of the boundary of the avenue opposite the Morrisville Cemetery.

Deep Bend

A vital link to the U.S. Steel plant in Falls Township, the road has at present a deep bend along the highway which has created a difficult traffic condition.

The extra five feet width on its east side will straighten the bend and make the road more accessible.

The five-foot right of way was deeded by the cemetery owners to the borough several months back. The right of way was then in turn deeded by the borough to the State for completion of the project.

About Two Weeks

Morrisville Borough Secretary Bob Steward said the work would probably take about two weeks to complete.

In the meantime, traffic along Pennsylvania Ave. will be regulated to allow continuation but at a slower pace.

No parking signs have been placed along both sides of the street to allow a free flow of traffic.

Work schedules have been arranged to have the work crews report to the road project after the peak morning use hours and leave before the peak evening rush hours to the steel mill.

Plans Made For Summer Recreation

Spring is merely an infant yet but Morrisville is getting set for summer already.

Neal Nolan, chairman of the borough's public property committee, said today recreation facilities at the swimming pool and in Williamson Park will be set soon for a big season.

Parking Area

Mr. Nolan said a $750 parking area is being prepared at the site of the pool.

Ground is being leveled and smoothed over and the parking area is expected to be servicable by the time the pool opens May 30, Mr. Nolan said.

The parking lot is expected to be able to accommodate approximately 300 cars when it is completed. It sits adjacent to the site of the pool.

Ball Field Gate

The borough has completed construction of an iron gate at the left field side of the ball field on the island.

Previously a ball hit out to left field could roll onto a heavily travelled street and often young ball players would chase it in front of cars.

The fence was constructed as a safety factor and will eliminate the danger of youngsters chasing a batted ball recklessly in front of cars.

Fairless Calls Back 50 Workers

About 50 of the approximately 200 employees of the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp. recently laid off have been called back to work, a plant spokesman said today.

The layoffs have been attributed to a reduction in the demand for steel by automobile manufacturers and other steel users.

Operations of the Fairless Works will be sharply curtailed Friday, however, in a holiday routine, the first Good Friday holiday to occur under the new contract between the management and union. Only such operations as the open hearth and blast furnaces and coke ovens will remain active Friday.

Morrisville Board Gives Final OK To New School

550 by 1,250 feet wide.

Several architects gave the plan, which has been under study since before Micklewright and Mountford was instructed to draw up plans. The Morrisville firm also is building the Grandview Elementary School.

The board and the School Authority, which will finance the plan, tapped the architectural firm of Micklewright and Mountford, Morrisville for the job.

It is hoped that the much needed new school will be ready for occupancy in Sept. 1958.

Morrisville's present high school, built in 1923, is operating under cramped conditions and will be forced to improvise double sessions next term to relieve the overcrowding.

To House 750

The present attendance at the high school is 625 pupils. The new junior-senior high school will be built to handle 750 children.

Harry Lee, Jr., read a report from the State authorizing the building of the new school.

In a package deal, the present high school will probably be converted to elementary school use when the new school is built.

The new school location was suggested for the Highland Park section of the borough, the approximate center of borough population.

Adjacent to the Grandview Elementary School, now under construction, the new high school will sit on an elevated spot in the borough and immediately have advantages of available drainage and sewer facilities.

The new school will consist of 20 acres and be approximately

Two Boro Streets Will Get Lights

Lights Ordered

Street lights have been ordered from the Philadelphia Electric Company for the intersection of Mercer St. and Barclay Ave. and Hamilton Ave. between Birch Drive and Maple Ave.

Two motorists will receive summonses as the result of an accident on Route 1 at Oxford Valley Road at 7:15 last night.

Middletown Township police reported a car driven by William Wisner, 33, of Oakford, was traveling east on Route 1 and attempted to make a left turn into Oxford Valley Road.

The second motorist was Louis Squicimara, 39, of Jenkintown. He was driving west on Route 1. The cars collided in the middle of the intersection.
